E.F. OUT LATTER PART OF WEEK

Dick Lyons, Editor-in-Chief of the Empire Forester, expects this year's issue from the bindery the latter part of this week and it will be distributed to one and all soon after. Dick and the entire staff deserve a lot of credit for all they have done to make the 1951 yearbook a success.

Next year's staff of the Empire Forester, recently selected, are:

Bob Lindeman, Editor-in-Chief
Jim Crowley, Managing Editor
Ed Liszewski, Ass't. Managing Editor
Frank Hoare & Chuck Rothmayer, Associate Editors
Ron Lanner, Literary Editor
Warren Hartman, Photo Editor
Russ Mulvey, Art Editor
Ray Smith, Advertising Editor
Lloyd Soule, Distribution Editor

The Camp Log staff was also selected:

Jim Curran, Editor-in-Chief
Bob Clark, Managing Editor
Harry Schumm, Literary Editor
John Anderson, Photo Editor
Bob Denny, Art Editor
Bob Schneider, Business Manager

WANT A RIDE HOME?

It has been suggested to this publication that a transportation sheet be placed on the student lounge bulletin board for the benefit of those people who want rides or riders to various parts of the country this summer. Such a sheet is now in the lounge and those who are interested can sign up and contact one another through the mailbox.

NEWS BRIEFS

Prof. Schuerch and John Lawlor are proud new papas of a boy and a girl, respectively. Congrats.

Dick Pentoney was awarded a National Lumber Manufacturer's scholarship.

Bill Aloisi, one of the Forestry Club vice-presidents-elect was initiated into Orange Key. He is also an MSG associate judge for the following year.

Fred Richter will be married June 4th.

Russ Mulvey has been elected to the position of president of the recently organized University A-II Club.

The Papyrus Club had its annual Beater Rats Brawl last Saturday in the mill. We've been told they used machine grease for floor wax.

The Saengerbund gave its last dying gasp of the year with its picnic Sunday, May 13. Dean Shirley had a different sort of tea that same day for the grad students, their wives, sweethearts and beaux at his home.

At its last formal meeting of the year (a couple weeks back) the Papyrus Club heard Mr. Tutt of Peter Cooper Corp., Tonawanda, N. Y. give an interesting semitechnical discussion of animal glue use in most phases of papermaking. Mimeographed copies will be available to all who are interested.

Registration for the fall term is from the 17th to the 19th of September with classes starting the following day. See you then.

Open Letter To The Students:

Thank you all for your fine cooperation with the library staff this year in helping to make the best use of the library facilities.

Have a good summer vacation.

Martha Neelig
Librarian

The following jokes have been stolen:

Did you hear about the little girl bundle of wheat that went to sleep with the little boy bundle?
She woke up and found a loaf of bread beside her and screamed, "I've been reaped!"

No, Miss Hiccup, a neckerchief is not the president of a sorority.

With this issue the Knothole closes up shop, not to be published again 'til the birds start dirtying the car windshields further south.

We would like to thank Roger Locke for the headings he has made up for the past few issues. Olin Boekes and Duane Coates would also like to thank everyone who helped make their year as editors a success.

The seniors are a unique graduating class in that they are the last class to be graduated by Dean Illick and the first in the second half century of organized forestry in this country. They're also the first class in several years which Uncle Sam will be taking such an active interest in. But - then - we shouldn't crow. Lots of luck to you anyway, fellas.
