EMPIRE FORESTER

The senior editors of the Empire Forester Staff are now accepting applications for the position of editor-in-chief of the 1965 yearbook. You should be a current sophomore or junior in good academic standing. The position does not require previous experience, although it would probably prove to be beneficial. The basic qualifications which make a good editor are: 1) The ability to organize materials. This presupposes the talent to be able to think systematically and conceptually at the same time. 2) The ability to organize, manage and derive the greatest use from a staff of human resources which is usually not noted for being excessive in quantity. 3) A desire to serve the College community. This means that the editor will be a little unusual in that he can derive some deal of satisfaction from repeated dosages of sacrifice. Self-discipline should be well developed.

The advantages of serving as editor center mainly around a better understanding of the organization and characteristics of physical and human resources. However, this better understanding, if carefully cultivated can (and will) yield rewards of a perpetual nature which will prove beneficial for a lifetime.

If you would like to be considered for this position, you should submit to the Empire Forester mailbox in Marshall Lounge the following information: 1) Name, 2) Address and phone number, 3) Class, 4) Any offices currently held, and 5) Cumulative average. This information should be submitted by this Saturday, April 11, 1964.

MOOSEWOOD'S NOTEBOOK #30

_From Purdue University_

The grate of a boat on a gravel bar,
The call of a distant loon;
Coffee and bacon and cedar smoke,
And geese against the moon.
The jump of a buck on frozen ground,
The spell of a fireplace nook:
To those of you who love these things -
COME TO THE FORESTRY CLUB MEETING
