The Department of Forest Entomology wishes to announce the availability of a scholarship award for advanced study during the current academic year and extending into the summer of 1965. Sponsored by the National Science Foundation under its Undergraduate Education in the Sciences Program, the scholarship is for research in the field of entomology, either in insect ecology under the direction of Dr. Simeone or in insect biochemistry under the direction of Dr. Brezner.

Scholarships amount to $200.00 for the academic year and $600 for the ten weeks beginning June 7, 1965.

Applicants must have the following qualifications:

1) Sophomore, Junior or Senior.
2) Cumulative grade average of 1.7 or better.
3) Entomology 1 grade of B or better.

Interested students should see Dr. Simeone or Dr. Brezner.

ATTENTION: 1964 SPRING CAMPERS

Your share of the proceeds from pulpwood sales is available evenings in Room 513, Dell Plain Hall.

OH SAY CAN YOU SEE

Oftentimes I wonder how popular good old-fashioned patriotism is nowadays. What I mean is patriotism in the form of our country's heritage of years past being remembered and observed presently.

I was walking south on the west side of Walnut Avenue one Saturday evening after dusk, when I noticed, fluttering in the breeze above, Old Glory. There are certain ways which our Space Age generation can observe our Nation's heritage. One is to practice its customs and traditions.
In December of 1942, Congress codified several rules and regulations relating to the flag of the United States of America. Our flag is a mere symbol of the ideals for which our country stands, yet it deserves every ounce of respect that we, as Americans, can give it. In other words, when custom has it that the flag should be displayed only from sunrise to sunset, this custom should be followed -- or either this custom and/or what it represents are meaningless.

Why should this be of such a special interest to the readers of the Knothole? Well, it so happens that Old Glory was flying atop the Kappa Phi Delta house (11:15 P.M.; 17 October 1964)

AN AUTUMN SONG

There is something in the autumn that is native to my blood
Touch of manner, hint of mood;
And my heart is like a rhyme,
With the yellow and the purple and the crimson keeping time.

The scarlet of the maples can shake me like a cry
Of bugles going by.
And my lonely spirit thrills
To see the frosty asters like smoke upon the hills.

There is something in October that sets the gipsy blood astir;
We must follow her.
When from every hill aflame,
She calls and calls each vagabond by name.

- Bliss Carman

THE FORESTER

He wrote seventeen letters of application, had twelve friends write testimonials, referred various firms to seven others, called twenty-one times himself, and had friends of the family phone in fourteen cases - and the local papers said that he had accepted a position.

Prof: A fool can ask questions that a wise man cannot answer.
Student: I suppose that's why so many of us flunk exams.

Prof: What are the three words that are most commonly used by Freshmen?
Fresh: I don't know.
Prof: Correct, sit down!
LIFE

Chapter I — Glad to meet you.
Chapter II — Isn't the moon beautiful?
Chapter III — Oosum love wasun.
Chapter IV — Do you...?
Chapter V — Da-Da.
Chapter VI — Where the samhill's the dinner!!!

MOOSEWOOD'S NOTEBOOK #32

Did you know that our broadleaved trees have a number of feminine traits? In autumn they disrobe and stand all winter with naked limbs. Then in spring they get a completely new outfit. All this time they are living on some sap!

GRADUATE SMOKER

Graduate faculty from each of our college's departments will participate in tomorrow night's Graduate Smoker. Dean Heiberg will present general information concerning graduate school, cider and doughnuts will be served, and the graduate faculty will then be available for students' questions and for discussion of graduate schooling in their special fields. All students are welcome, but participation is especially urged upon Juniors and Seniors of our College.

The Smoker starts at 7:30 P.M., Thursday, October 29th, in Marshall Lounge.

SENIORS

Your yearbook pictures will be taken November 12 and 13, Thursday and Friday, by a mobile unit that will come to the college campus. A schedule will be developed that will allow the bulk of the pictures to be taken between classes and during free periods. Group pictures will be taken on schedule Thursday and, if necessary, Friday night. An appointment for individual pictures determined by your schedule will be placed in the student mail.
